

PHYS 435: Lecture 5

Cliff Sun

January 31, 2025

In a volume with no charges, the potential at its origin is equal to the average across its sphere. Potentials with a charge inside its volume are uniquely defined.